TOWN CRIER

By W. Gartrell

"I am reluctant to applaud
The roses of the garden fraud
Whose hair and nails and shoes are neat,
Whose slacks aren't baggy as to seat
Or muddy as to knee. I know
SHE didn't make her garden grow!"
—Margaret Fishback.

The above is apropos of nothing in particular, we just don't like frauds of any kind, least of all the garden variety who lets somebody else do the sweating and digging while she gathers the posies and takes the bows. And, too, the synthetic gardener misses a lot, for not till the fingers know the feel of real dirt and the spirit senses its kinship with the Creator, does the urge come to carry on in spite of an aching back and grit in the shoes, broken finger nails and a hot sun. The real gardener knows the joy of making things grow and if he (or she) be possessed of what the Irish call the "green finger," then indeed the thrill of making delicate plants and shrubs flourish in spite of difficulties is worth all the labor it costs.

Cheering news comes from no less a personage than Hizzoner, the Mayor, to the effect that the town has let a contract for reconditioning the sidewalks left in such a precarious condition when the recent curbing project was completed. (The town wit wanted a pedestrian obstacle race included in Glenwood's fall program, contending that the population had jumped hurdles and ditched all summer and would be in fine condition for the fall meet.) The Town Fathers are awaiting news from the petrified defendant who was allowed to go on his way after he convinced the Law that his "assets had et up his liabilities," as a good old colored

Valley Hunt Show Championship To Holystone

The 6th Annual Valley Hunt Horse Show, run under the ingenious Secretary-Managership of James I. Leyburn, was held last week near Bradford, Pa., July 5-6 and 7, and proved as in other years, an exhilarating success for both exhibitors and spectators. Crispin Oglebay's great Holystone came over from his Chagrin Valley, Ohio, stables to perform pricelessly and, needless to say, take the Championship. Like the little girl with the curl, this Man o' War gelding is very, very good when he performs well, really unbeatable. Still, despite a mishap in the $250. Stake, W. C. Robinson, Sr's Captain Kid, shown evenly under splendid rides by Mrs. Snowdon Richards, also of Sewickley, Pa., took a deserved

Background And History of Open Jumper Offers Study For Hunter Breeding

Heads And Hearts More Important Than Conformation In Development Of Open Jumping Horses

During the past ten or fifteen years, Hunters in the field and in the show ring have been taking on a definite uniformity. A standard is gradually being set for conformation and way of going, and who can tell but that, eventually, some comprehensive plan for the breeding of Hunters may be discovered. Open-to-all horses still come in all shapes and sizes and the way they are bred, even if statistics could be obtained on this interesting subject, would probably represent every kind of horse ever foaled. Horses, apparently, jump with their heads and hearts quite as much as they do with their conformation and ancestry for a survey of some 100 animals taken at random from the programs of a few well known horse shows gives a cross section of open jumpers ranging from 13 hand ponies to 18 hand giants and includes mixtures of all sorts of blood; Hackney, Standard and Thoroughbred, Draft, Arab and Lord only knows what. Such horses as Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's Little Squire, a grey Connemara pony 13.1 in height. Brookside Stables' Brookside, by a Hackney sire, Oscar Ehrhorne's Socks, a Sadiebred horse, Mr. and Mrs. William Schlusemeyer's Foggy Morn, an unregistered Hunterbred horse and Mrs. Joseph L. Merrill's Timber Boy a registered Thoroughbred 18 hands high. A strange conglomeration! It would be impossible, even if these 100 horses could be traced to their source, to get complete statistics on all of them for it is doubtful if even their breeders know exactly the origin of the mares from which many of them came.

There are, however, many people that are under the impression that Thoroughbreds do not make Open Jumpers, and nothing could be further from the case. As a matter of fact it is probable that the largest proportion of any one strain in these horses is Thoroughbred, for the majority of them are either Hunters that have shown extraordinary jumping ability, show ring Hunters that have gone wrong enough in wind or limb to prevent their being considered in these classes, or occasionally, conformation horses that have developed such unusual ability over fences that they are sent out to bring back ribbons against the open-to-all horses.

Of the 100 horses on this list fifteen are registered Thoroughbreds and because many of their names

Waynesburg Country In Greene County Puts Over Show

The Horse Show is a civic trust up in the Waynesburg, Pa., community, in the heart of the verdant blue grass hills of Greene County. Held under the auspices of the Greene County Saddle Club, Inc., the 4th Annual Waynesburg Show took place July 3-4 in the Fair Grounds, John W. Beach's Hunters and Jumpers from Allison Park, Pa., predominated. There is County-wide interest in the Show, which numbers Waynesburg lawyers, bankers, dentists, mail carriers, undertakers and farmers on its Committee, and with those men the thought of increasing the interest in horse-breeding within the confines of Greene County is paramount.

Whereas Secretaries John E. Clifford and J. Wood Williamson, had over 100 horses taking part in the two day event, which included classes for Hunters, Jumpers, the Saddle Divisions, and Ponies, a triple Pennsylvania Show Circuit affected them at it did Valley Hunt and Scranton.

The Fair Grounds, with large grand-stand and $\frac{1}{2}$ mile track, provided

Little Squire Tops High Jumpers At Huntington

At the revival of the Huntington Horse Show, which had not been held since 1932, the Audwill Stables' grey jumping pony Little Squire, won the revival of the High Jump, a class that disappeared from the show ring even longer ago. The close of the two-day exhibition, July 7 also saw Miss Blanche Clark's well known model Hunter, Lord Britain, go Conformation Champion over Martin Vogel Jr.'s *Demas, and little 15 hand My Play Boy take the open Jumping tri-color from the even smaller Little Squire.

Thirteen-year-old Russell Stewart brought My Play Boy down from Albany to compete in the Open classes at Huntington, riding himself throughout the show, and while he didn't get off to a very good start, thirds being his during the early stages, he was almost unbeatable once he struck his stride, winning the Stake and two other classes. A little bay horse that cannot boast of much beauty, My Play Boy is an extraordinarily willing, accurate jumper.

New Munster With Thirteen 'Chasers Closes Delaware

Steeplechasing Ends On Successful Note As Pat Ganado Triumphs

Delaware Park's brush activities closed on a successful note with 13 starters parading for the New Munster Steeplechase on July 3, all 13 completing the "about two miles", despite a driving rain, and Edward Q. McVitty's home-bred Pat Ganado coming from behind to overtake the leaders and drive down the stretch ahead of F. Ambrose Clark's favored Red Gauntlet. The card's only scratch was Marylander Hugh J. O'Donovan's *Tam O'Shanter, leaving among the goodly sized field Mrs. J. C. Clark's hunt meeting veteran *Little Cottage II, who finished 3rd under topweight of 162, William L. Van Alen's Campfire Embers, Morris Dixon's Promoter, Redding Furnace Farm's Beach Maiden, all sharing nearly equal choice in the crowd's opinion, and Mr. Clark's *Horner Wood, coupled with his stablemate Red Gauntlet.

As the field lined up, Jockey Mergler was allowed no. 1 post position on Pat Ganado, and next to him was the only amateur in the race, Mr. P. D. Reid, aboard G. C. Rile's Edwin Booth. Next in order were Red Gauntlet, F. Bellhouse up; Mrs. W. P. Roth's Raceme, G. Walker up; Mrs. Turner Wiltshire's Middleburg hope Houseman, T. Robe up; H. Cruz on E. B. Schley's *Bartholdi; W. Passmore on Beach Maiden; F. Moon on Promoter; G. W. Hoblin's De Yeldarb, O. Helicus up; W. Gal-

*Claire's Toy Scores Double At Scranton

The 5th Annual Scranton Horse Show, held under the auspices of the Abington Hills Hunt Club, in the Ackley Fair Grounds, Clarks Summit, Pa., concluded its two-day fixture on Sunday, July 7, as Jack Prestage rode his Tipperary Stable's *Claire's Toy to double tricolor honors in the Conformation and Working Hunters. These awards were roundly applauded, as the Tipperary proprietor, of Watertown, Conn., is well known in this Hunt's territory, having started many of the followers riding.

*Claire's Toy is a big-barrelled lightweight Irish import. She performed willingly throughout, winning 23 points up to the Conformation

Culpeper Champion Son Of *Coq Gaulois

—Darling Photo.

Dr. Lewis M. Allen, of Winchester, who bred some of America's leading timber horses from the late *COQ GAULOIS, has an ideal lightweight hunter type in his well-balanced CLIFTON'S LAD, whose honest performances won him the Hunter Championship at The Culpeper Horse Show on July 6, in competition with such outstanding rivals as ROYALTY II, recent Upperville Champion, the noted Llangollen string and many others. Above, the 8-year-old son of COQ GAULOIS—GRAY BONNET is shown in a typical performance in the Ladies' Hunters, being ridden by Miss Ellie Wood Keith of Charlottesville.

Mrs. Lee's Clover Seed Triple Bar Winner

—Darling Photo.

Mrs. Hamilton's Golondrina Reserve

With the swallow-like grace that her name implies, Mrs. James Hamilton's good chestnut mare GOLONDrina turned in one excellent performance after another at The Culpeper Horse Show, on July 4-5. Ridden by her Warrenton owner, this 5-year-old daughter of DUNLIN—THESSALY won both the Ladies' Hunters and the Hunter Hacks, defeating the eventual Champion CLIFTON'S LAD in the former. She was awarded the Reserve Championship at the end of the show.

Colin MacLeod, Jr. Prepares First Yearling Consignment For Saratoga At Huntlands By Exterminator

Mr. Colin MacLeod, Jr., is a newcomer in the ranks of breeders of thoroughbreds. His stud is located at Huntlands, near Middleburg Va., where he has developed some excellent pastures. His yearlings are well grown and well cared for. This is the first year he has been a vendor at the yearling sales. His consignment is made up of nine yearlings, of which four are colts and five are fillies:

1. B. C. *Belfonds-Home Time, by High Time, The dam has produced but one other foal, the frequent winner Bloomer Girl, winner of four races as a 2-year-old. Everyone who has been this colt agrees that he is an individual of the highest class. Indeed there are several good judges who have seen most of the yearlings in Virginia and pick this colt as the most likely racing prospect of them all. He has the long under-line and the straight hind leg of the horse of great speed. His quarters are very muscular, and his second thighs and gaskins stand out with strong development. In addition he is a colt of splendid rein, shoulder, neck and head. This colt is much more the racing machine than the show horse.

2. B. C. Agrarian-Movie Lass, by Kai Finn. This colt is a nice size, is symmetrical, with a strong back and loin and is not easy to fault.

B. C. *Belfonds-Dealer's Choice, by Chance Play. Medium size. Straight hind leg. Good Quarters. Good mover.

B. C. *Quatre Bras II-Tehani, by Carlaris. The dam was a winner and believed to be a good mare who was retired to stud early. This colt is strongly made throughout, and is furnished with a great frame to support his exceptional size. He will undoubtedly make a strong appeal to many critics who like their yearlings on the large order.

B. F. *Quatre Bras II-Beauty Star, by Sweep. Dam has produced the good horse Polish Beau and several other winners. This filly is most attractive as a racing prospect, being a good mover, neat, smooth and effeminate.

Roan F. by *Belfonds-Star of Thule, by Sunstar. The dam has already produced the winners Tell It, and Telling Them, and the high class filly Orcades, winner of two stakes this year and second in the Hannah Dustin Handicap, and third in the Newcastle Handicap this year, with $10,000.00 added. This filly is a late May foal, and is not as big as many earlier foals. However, she shows exquisite quality, and is beautifully made throughout. Given a little time to grow and finish, it will be very surprising if she does not run.

Gr. F. *Belfonds-Lady Modish, by Wrack. The dam has had only one runner go to the races, the winner Duchess Del. This filly is of medium size, is symmetrical throughout. Good hind leg, and good color.

Gr. F. *Belfonds-Whim, by Broomstick. The dam has bred three winners, including My Purchase, winner of nearly $20,000.00. This filly is of medium size and good length. She has a nice neck and shoulder, and walks with an attractive springy supple stride.

B. F. *Belfonds-Litany, by Abbott's Trace. The dam has produced the frequent winner at two, three four and five, Affirmation, and the winner Call It. This filly is on the small side, but as everything out of this mare seems to run, she is probably a good gamble as a racing prospect.

Mr. A. A. Baldwin of White Post Virginia has a consignment of four yearlings which are due to go under the hammer at Saratoga on the last night of the sales. This group con-

Pompey Gelding Scores Triumph At Delaware

Masked General Defeats Belay To Climax Three Out Of Six Start Victories

Brandywine Stable's record smashing Pompey gelding Masked General scored his richest triumph since the Washington Handicap last October when he came home to a five length victory over A. C. Bostwick's Belay in the 4th running of the $10,000 added Sussex Handicap, feature of Delaware Park's closing on July 4. In his previous performance at Delaware, the 6-year-old gelding by one of Virginia's best known sires established a track record of 1.42 4-5 for the mile and 70 yard oval, this on June 24. Masked General's first triumph this year, the result of his second outing, came in The Philadelphia Handicap at Havre de Grace in April. Altogether he has won three out of six starts, while last year he was only once out of the money in 11 efforts, winning in addition to The Washington, The Old Dominion Handicap at Pimlico and The Delaware Handicap. His latest performance netted him $8,525.

Mrs. W. R. Flemming's 4-year-old filly Loveday, by the Maryland sire Petee-Wreck, having turned in one honest performance after another this season, attained her third straight win and first major stake when she took the $5,000 added Hannah Dustin Handicap from Mrs. Valley Wyse's Orcades and nine others of her sex at Suffolk Downs last Saturday, July 6. This was the first chance that Loveday has had at Orcades since that filly headed her home as they both finished behind Star Boarder at the same track in an allowance affair about a month

Notes From Great Britain

Cancellation Of Race Meetings Continues In Spite Of Disappointments To Many

By J. Fairfax-Blakeborough

The other day I had a chat with some of those in high Turf places and they told me that the Jockey Club would approach the Government with what seems to be an excellent suggestion. It is this: "As men cannot go on indefinitely working long hours without a holiday, if you tell us where and when holidays are to be allowed, then we'll arrange race meetings to fit in with temporary cessations from work".

We now know that there is to be no Northumberland Plate this year, and that the dice are heavily loaded against the Doncaster St. Leger meeting being held on the Town Moor. In view of today's slogan "Work without ceasing", and the consequent cancellation of the ages old Tyneside race week holiday it would seem almost in the nature of opposition to carry out race fixtures. Of course, meaning what they do in the north (in which they stand out as cameos) the abandonment of the Northumberland Plate and the transference of the St Leger are bitter disappointments, but the regrets are tempered by full understanding.

The ground rattled and the dust flew on most English race tracks during the drought in the early days of June. Some trainers who had brought horses to meetings and declared them to run, persuaded their owners at the last moment to withdraw them, despite the fact that there were strong rumours that there would be no more racing after the Derby and Oaks fixture at Newmarket.

Hunting Notes:-

Hounds Work Up Cold Line For Opening Day With Mrs. Rebecca Lanier Trimpi, M.F.H.

The Nantucket Harriers, with Mrs. Rebecca Lanier Trimpi Master, officially opened their summer hunting season on Monday, July 1. A small but enthusiastic field came out, mounted by Ted Wahl, who transfers his stable from Greenwich, Conn., for the summer months.

Hounds met at the kennels and were taken over to Jackall's Somerset Farm, where they drew the upper end of Smooth Hummocks. They worked on a cold line, up to a levert who went away towards the dunes, with 13 1-2 couple on her tail. She doubled back, headed towards Hummock Pond, but after crossing the Bartlett Road, she turned down and ran towards the Dunes. Her strength began to go as Hounds came streaming on behind her, and once again she doubled back, this time almost running into the oncoming pack. Hounds were whipped off at this point so as to let her get away.

The pack was taken back to the other side of Bartlett Road and cast down across the Hummocks. After a blank 20 minutes a hare, this time an old one, jumped up and ran northeast to Jackall's. One of the young entry led the pack on this run until they came to a check on a sandy road, headed for Bartlett's Farm. Here the Hare turned off, running back to Jackall's, but Hounds heads came up on another road where they lost and were lifted after casting without success.

Once more we drew across the Hummocks and, as we neared Miacomet Road, southeast of Jackall's, a Hare jumped up and ran back over the moors. Hounds picked up the line and ran on with terrific speed, working a large circle and then heading back towards the dunes, where they were brought to a check. They had been running for twenty-five minutes, and, as it was the first time out, we decided to call it a day.

Wednesday, July 3: The meet was at Bartlett's this morning and, with an over east sky and southerly wind, scenting proved to be very good.

Hounds were drawn southeast towards the dunes and, after casting about for a few minutes, a levert jumped up and ran down a road to the dunes. Durable and Jimmy, another good road Hound, picked up the line and the pack flew toward the dunes, and then turned left running parallel to the sand. Here another Hare jumped up but, unfortunately, cut off the levert who doubled back and ran right into the pack. This was a very short but fast hunt.

Hounds were then taken across the Gulley and cast west up along the dunes, toward Hummock Pond. A jack was viewed heading away towards the pond and Hounds were put on the line. Finding the pack right on her trail, however, the Jack swung northeast back towards Bartlett's. Hounds were fairly flying down the road but came to a check at the corner of Bartlett's where the line was again picked up by one of this year's young entry, Bashful. Back to the dunes again and here the tired Jack jumped back and once more headed back to the Farm. We could see that Hounds were gaining on her, so we called them off as she had given us a good run of 20 minutes.

Another Hare jumped up on the moor and ran straight away to Hummock Pond. Hounds were really running fast, as it was all we, on horses, could do to keep up with them. A check on the Pond Road brought Hounds to a halt, and so we called it a day as all were tired.

Friday, July 5. Owing to poor weather we couldn't take Hounds out on the 4th., so we decided to take them out this morning, as many people were only up here for over the week-end.

Hounds met at the kennels and were taken to one of the large fields, southeast of Jackall's Farm. They had drawn this blank for about 20 minutes when a large Hare jumped up and made for the moors, and down to the dunes. Here she made a sharp right turn and then ran down to the sand, on which she turned left heading east up the beach. Jimmy, heretofore mentioned, did a beautiful piece of work where the Hare had made the right turn. The whole pack was streaming down with him in the lead, and when he came to this turn, he never even lifted his head, but turned exactly where the Jack had. Hounds checked on the sand and worked up the beach where the Hare jumped up and was away across Miacomet Pond and towards the Compass Station. She ran a straight line all the way up across the dunes, and straight on past the Station to Surfside, where Hounds were brought to a check as she switched to a sandy road. Once more they picked up the scent, but we called them off as we didn't want to kill this good running Hare, especially as there are very few Hare over in Surfside. This Hunt had lasted for 30 minutes.

The rest of the morning proved blank, excepting for one little burst when a baby levert jumped up and fast run of 50 minutes.

tried to run. She couldn't get away, though, and was, unfortunately, killed. After this Hounds were taken in.

Saturday, July 6. Hounds met at Hummock Pond and were taken across to the other side. They drew Northwest up the Plains where a cold line was picked up by Spokesman, our best Hound. Hounds worked on this for 5 minutes, when Wildbay, a new Hound, hunted right up to the Hare, who ran down the corner of the pond and then headed west along the dunes. Here she switched onto the sand and Hounds came to a check. Spokesman picked up the line and led the pack down the beach to where the Hare had turned off and run North parallel to the Sheep Pond. Here she doubled back and ran a sandy road right back to Hummock Pond, where Spokesman once more picked up the line and led the pack all the way up the road to where the Hare had made a sharp turn off it. Spokesman never lifted his head and turned right on the line. The Hare made one or two turns up here and straightened out heading back towards the dunes on the road. She then turned right up another sandy road where Hounds checked. Not for very long, however, as the scent was picked up again where she had turned off the road. She headed northeast through the Plains but Hounds were gaining on her and she was viewed several times—a very tired Hare. She made a few turns but couldn't get away and it was all over. Hounds deserved the kill after a hard and fast run of 50 minutes.

Clifton's Lad Culpeper Show Champion

By Judy Molter

It took a horse with conformation, quality and consistency of performance to best such good ones as Mrs. James Hamilton's Golondrina, and Robert S. Waters' Royalty 2nd, at the 37th Annual Culpeper horse show this year, July 4-5; and Dr. L. M. Allen's sturdy Clifton's Lad was the one.

After watching this good gray from Dr. Allen's Gaylord, Va., stables perform on Thurs., and Fri., Judges Thomas Assheton, John Morris, Jack Prestage, J. H. Guitar and Forrest Ward pinned the Championship tri-color on Clifton's Lad, with Mrs. James Hamilton's Golondrina Reserve Champion Hunter. The duel for the Championship was, as is usual, hard fought; and Clifton's Lad was pushed by Mrs. Hamilton's mare Golondrina.

Clifton's Lad, an 8-year-old son of *Coq Gaulois, who last year at Culpeper made a good showing, seemed fresh and ready to turn in sterling performances for rider Norman Haymaker.

He first caught the Judges' eye on Thursday in the Working Hunter class. With pace and style of jumping counting, over the outside course, thirty-one answered the call. Mrs. E. Gardner Prime's Spring Miss coppered the blue, but Clifton's Lad was not far behind, placing third, with Meander Farm's Harvest Day, winner of the Lightweight class, in second place, and U. S. Randle's Randle's Shadow fourth.

Ladies' Hunter classes call for manners, and in this class Clifton's Lad, Miss Ellie Wood Keith up took second place, to Mrs. Hamilton's Golondrina, with Mrs. M. E. Whitney's The Bear in third place, and Miss Betty Couzen's Repulsion, 4th.

The closely contested Corinthian class, in which thirty-some competed, found Clifton's Lad on top, after a beautiful performance for Miss Keith, with Mrs. W. Haggin Perry up on her To Victory, close behind in second place. Marian D. Curran's Thra was third; and U. S. Randle's gray gelding Randle's Nite, fourth.

Golondrina, a 3-year-old daughter of Dunlin—Thessaly, owned and ridden throughout the show by Mrs. James Hamilton, of the Dunnottar Pony Farm, Warrenton, Va.; began knocking at the door when she topped them all in the Ladies' Hunter class, and again in the Hunter Hack class when she won over such good ones as Foxhollow Farm's Union Jack, Mrs. D. N. Lee's Upperville 3-year-old Champion, Spanish Spear, and Peach Brothers' Tern.

Competing in the Preliminary Championship class, under saddle, were: Clifton's Lad; Royalty 2nd; Golondrina; and Harvest Day. They were pinned in the order named.

Although no Jumper Champion ship was awarded, Mrs. M. E. Whitney's amazing stallion Bon Nuit, who caused such discussion at Upperville, was the outstanding lepper. Winner of the Touch and Out class, he also placed in the ribbons in both the Hunter and Jumper, and Handicap Jumper classes. Mrs. D. N. Lee's Clover Seed and U. S. Randle's Randle's Way were also jumping consistently and well, and provided a thrilling duel in the Triple Bar class. After four jump-offs, with the bars spread to ten feet, Mrs. Lee's Clover Seed still managed to go clean; while Randle's Way never seemed to even get off the ground at the second fence. Alex Calvert of Warrenton had his Mama down, and this game little mare showed them the way in the class for Hunters and Jumpers.

The class for Four-Year-Olds and Under usually brings out a good crop, and causes much excitement; and this show was no exception. Here Mrs. Lee's picture-horse Spanish Spear carried on from his Upperville wins; while Mrs. Cary Jackson's smooth Croyden Park placed second, with Fox Hollow Farm's Union Jack, winner of the Local Jumping class, third, and C. M. Greer's Blaze Terpin, fourth.

Again, in the class for Green Hunters, Mrs. Lee's Spanish Spear was in first place, with Mr. and Mrs. W. Haggin Perry's To Victory putting up a high perfect performance to place second; Mrs. Cary Jackson's Croyden Park third; and J. North Fletcher's Eber So, fourth.

Middle and Heavyweight Hunters were given a hard job in topping Robert S. Water's good Royalty 2nd. U. S. Randle's Randle's Nite came into the yellow ribbon, with the W. Haggin Perry's To Victory third; and Mrs. D. N. Lee's Speed Demon, fourth.

Overcast skies and heavy going did not prevent a goodly crowd from seeing a Rockminister colt, out of Tympanum, owned by Manley W. Carter, of Orange, win the class for Thoroughbred Yearlings, over C. B. Payne's chestnut filly, Trofan Enough, by One's Enough—Tontie.

In the class for Half-bred Yearlings, No Mistake, a brown colt by Whizaway—Lucille, from the barn of E. L. Redmon, took the blue; while an entry of the Peach brothers, a chestnut colt by Flying Puritan placed second; another of Mr. Redmon's, a colt by Sieve Roi, placing third, and Cross Fire, by Double Cross, placing fourth.

Uncle used to say. Other town activities include the annual Firemen's Carnival, slated for later in the month, of which more anon.

Although it but turned its fourth birthday in April, the Middleburg Volunteer Fire Department is a lusty infant, and has accomplished many things in its brief life span. It has provided adequate fire protection for this town and community, the value of whose homes and property is above the average. Its financial statement is writ large in BLACK figures, some of which may be of interest to the passing reader and the potential user of the Fire Department; a $6,200 Seagrave engine, equipped with 2,000 feet of standard fire hose, responds at any and all hours to the blasts of a $300 fire siren perched upon the water tank and operated from the telephone office; a recently acquired building lot on Madison street cost the Smok-eaters $1,200, upon which they plan to build a modern fire house; insurance, heat, light, rent and gasoline account for an annual expenditure of $1,000, while miscellaneous expenses call for another $500. And now, in this year of grace and deficits, comes the real news, the Volunteers have a cash balance of $800 in the local bank! (Somebody page Mr. Morgenthau.)

The average Native might take a page from the average Damyankee notebook when it comes to giving oneself with one's alms. Cases in point are the recent polo games played whose gate goes to the Red Cross, and the faithful work done by Red Cross workers in making bandages and other hospital supplies for overseas units. Of course the polo team and Red Cross workers are not 100 per cent Yankees, but the balance is decidedly on that side. It would be well for us to bestir ourselves and do our share in this emergency, even if it does call for our overcoming Virginia Inertia and going to work.

ing Reserve.

Mr. Oglebay also enjoyed the workmanlike performances of his gallant Question, who also scored in the Hunter competition, but took his major honors in the Jumper Championship. The Rochester Cavalry Troop, (Rochester, N. J.) had a consistent Ruskin to place Reserve.

Over a hundred horses contended through the 3 days, as Otto Furr, of Middleburg, and Dr. Edgar W. Powell, of Bryn Mawr, Pa., judged the Hunters and Jumpers. Splendid in-the-ring and outside courses were used, the latter somewhat reminiscent of Miss Rood's Wilmington layout. The Valley Hunt Club has possibly the most unusual grounds and physical equipment for Horse Show use to be found anywhere in the United States. Tennis courts and swimming pools are at one end of the ring, the club house is banked about one side, from which spectators can look out the windows or have ringside on the porch, and the spacious stabling facilities are fifty feet from the other end of the ring. Temporary stalls, large boxes, were improvised in the indoor riding arena, which had a special cooling system to keep the temperature down for the visiting horses.

Mr. Leyburn has stimulated a tremendous interest in riding and showing in the Bradford —Valley Hunt community. He has encouraged youngsters' enthusiasm; shopped for the perfect mounts, made and schooled these horses; given equitation lessons to its young riders, and in general has won the hearts of children and parents.

Holystone, despite a strenuous spring's campaigning, never went or looked better. He never touched a fence through the 3-day Show. He was given excellent rides by Miss Muriel Cleland, who came all the way from New Jersey for the Show.

Some 4 years ago, Mr. Leyburn purchased Olivia F., then in foal to Macaw, from Frank Bonsal, Jr., in Maryland, for Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Crittenden, of Bradford. Olivia F. dropped a colt in '37 who was named Doc McCaw, and who as a 3-year-old this year took 2nd in the Model to Holystone. This classy chestnut was 2nd in the Suitable to Become, when Miss Isabel Streeter, also of Bradford, rode her Telpah to the blue. While Doc McCaw took honors his dam took 2nd in the Handy Jumpers.

Miss Streeter's Telpah is another of Mr. Leyburn's purchases. He was bought off the track at Sportsman's Park in 1939, and gives evidence of becoming an outstanding conformation Hunter, as he becomes better acquainted with the routine of the ring. His fair young owner, though scarcely 13, has another good conformation sort in Thornmark, and rode this gelding to 2nd in the Hunter Hacks back of Holystone and a 2nd in the Novice and Green back of Miss Allitheia M. B. Cary's Lough Lorne, of Boston, N. Y. The 3rd in the Novice and Green was taken by Alex Mc Crea, riding his Winchie B., an attractive mare recently acquired from Arnold Scruton, of Warrenton. Mr. Mc Crea was making his debut in the ring as an owner-rider of Hunters. The Clevelander formerly owned 3-gaited horses, but relished the fun the Hunter owners seemed to have riding their own horses over fences.

Miss Helena R. Emmet, of Erie, Pa., had her Ridgewood and Surfside at Valley Hunt. These two lightweights had predominated in the recent Kirtland, Ohio, Show, and had performance and conformation to contest Holystone closely in the Hunter Hacks and Lightweight, also in the Corinthian, when Mrs. Richards rode Captain Kidd to gain the red. Also up from Sewickley Hunt country came Miss Evelyn Thompson, who won consistently with her Scattercash jumper, and rode Blaine T. Fairless' Gray Tone, and William Robinson Jr. who had his sister Mrs. Richards up on his recently acquired Long Island-bred Think Twice, who combined with Captain Kidd and Gray Tone in the Sewickley Hunt Hunt -Team entry.

John Tollen, of Erie, rode his Brown Oak to Jumper awards, winning an open class without wings, besting Question. Brown Oak is by the Thoroughbred Heart of Oak out of a $\frac{1}{2}$ Hackney mare and was obtained from a horse-dealing Minister, near London, Ont., who used to drive him to his gig, to and from church meetings.

Miss Beverly Ann Brennan, of Valley Hunt, has been enjoying performances with her talented little mare Fantan for several seasons. She won the Children's Open Jumping, was 2nd to Miss Alice B. Painter's sparkling mare Galety, from Sewickley, in the big Children's Working Hunter class, and then proved definite versatility in winning the Lunge Line Jumping, as Olivia F. Continued on Page Fourteen will be recognized as top performers they are listed along with their breeding for those who enjoy genealogy. It is doubtful if anything constructive can be found in it, but anyone is welcome to it if they can. Nor does The Chronicle take any responsibility for duplicate names. If a chestnut filly, born in 1932 is named Dandy Dancer how are we to know that she is not the one on page 543 of the American Stud book?

Although open horses are not, as a whole, noted for their manners, many of these Thoroughbreds are quiet horses. Modernistic is ridden in practically all his classes by his owner and has won triple bar classes with Mrs. Lasker up. Miss Townsend rides Movie Queen. Dr. Kees wins on Lew Dunbar, one of the best performers at the major shows, and Thunder Boy, Sally Twink and Home Spun often go into the ring with children on their backs and come out with the right color ribbons on their bridles. This, in itself is unusual as the entries in this section of the shows are usually ridden by professionals. Most of them are well made horses, too. Some of them are showing now, and winning in the conformation division and others have in the past. While open horses are, as a whole, scarcely recommended as Hunters there is hardly a horse among the fifteen that doesn't look as if he'd give a good day in the field.

Guessing rather at random from conformation, past histories and what can be learned of their breeding it is pretty safe to say that at least 30 more of these 100 open horses are "Hunter Bred", that is they have a dominating percentage of Thoroughbred blood. Another 30 might be divided up between the Hackneys, Standardbreds and Saddlebreds, leaving 25 to go down as grade. It is a matter of opportunity as much as anything. The horse that is bred to hunt usually has his jumping ability tried, and arrives in the ring either because his temper is not appropriate to the field or because his ability over fences is unusual, while with the others it is apt to be the old paddock fence story. "We turned him out and he jumped a 5 foot fence from a standstill".

has started many a horse on an open jumping career. A few of them were actually bred for open jumpers. Among these the get of Stephen Budd's one eyed Hackney Sir Gilbert who a few years ago was jumping in open classes against his sons and daughters, has made quite a mark in the show rings around New York.

It would be interesting to obtain more complete records on these honest open horses. Whatever they lack in breeding and conformation they make up in courage because any horse that will go on day after day, week after week jumping unusual and difficult fences and doing it faultlessly must have plenty of heart. But in nine cases out of ten their backgrounds are obscure. They come from the race track, the Remount, the Hunting Field, the dealer's and, the riding schools, or are sometimes discovered by accident among carloads of cheap animals sold at auction. Each has its individual history and they probably are far more varied than that of any other form of horse life.

NEW MUNSTER 'CHASE

lagher on Campfire Embers; J. Penrod on Walter Wickes's Scurry Along; J. Magee on *Little Cottage II and J. McGovern on *Horner Wood.

Saddled by Oleg T. Dubassoff, who sent Farndale to his many successes last year, Pat Ganado had been out once before at Delaware, in June, when a bad landing resulted in his finishing 4th behind L. W. Robinson, Jr.'s Parma, *Little Cottage II and Promoter. No such mishap occurred to him in Wednesday's race, and Mergler restrained the son of Ibn Ganado—Beatrice Patricia well back of the early van, letting Mr. Reid show the way on Edwin Booth, followed by Raceme, Houseman and *Bartholdi. Red Gauntlet, like the winner, was content to play the waiting game. Edwin Booth continued to make the pace for the first half of the distance, jumping well and displaying good speed between his fences. Completing a turn of the field, however, Raceme, who had followed close to the pace, moved into the front-running position and the former pacemaker dropped back steadily thereafter.

Pat Ganado was still far back, though Red Gauntlet had closed considerable ground and was within striking distance of the leaders. *Little Cottage II meanwhile had likewise remained well back, but when called upon moved willingly to the front with his heavy burden. Within three fences of the finish Pat Ganado made his move, rapidly overcame *Little Cottage II, Houseman, Beach Maiden, *Bartholdi, *Horner Wood, Red Gauntlet, the tiring Edwin Booth, and was soon on even terms with Raceme. Before they reached the 14th fence Pat Ganado was in front of the field, opening up a good lead. Red Gauntlet also was coming up rapidly and, the final fence behind them, Pat Ganado was hard ridden in the stretch to keep the Clark gelding behind him, just crossing the finish with a two length margin, while close behind Red Gauntlet were *Little Cottage II and Campfire Embers. Once headed, Raceme was unable to offer further contention and followed in some five lengths behind Campfire Embers.

Jamestown For Jacola

Dear Sir:

They say procrastination is the thief of time, and in this case it has stolen my opportunity to be the first to name in print, George D. Widener's good stallion Jamestown as the ideal mate for Abram S. Hewitt's excellent race mare Jacola.

Though I neglected to write you until now, when my good friend A. B. Hancock, Jr., has already nominated Jamestown, nevertheless I did nominate him when talking to Mr. Hewitt on the telephone some ten days or two weeks ago.

As to reasons, I think that the pattern of A. B. Hancock, Sr., of following lines of proven success would indicate if nothing else that Jacola would be a good mate for the sire of her brilliant half brother, William Woodward's Jamestown. Furthermore, as A. B. Hancock, Jr., has already pointed out, you have a pattern of success in the Hampton cross on the potent blood of Sir Gallahad III.

I do not know personally the mannerisms and disposition of Jacola, but do know that Jamestown is a horse of excellent disposition and in my opinion one of the handsomest stallions in America.

I consider that from the physical standpoint, which to my mind is extremely important, it would be hard to select a stallion more suitable to a mare of Jacola's scope and general makeup.

I am sorry that I overlooked writing this long ago as I had intended but better late than never; anyhow I am glad to find the scion of so brilliant a sire concurring with me in this selection.

Wishing you the best of luck in your contest, I am

Yours sincerely,
Humphrey S. Finney

Jamestown For Jacola

Gentlemen:

Nelson Dunstan's column announces a contest in his Morning Telegraph for a prize in return for naming a suitable breeding mate for Jacola.

I enter the name of Jamestown. Jacola has size, speed, and staying qualities. Jamestown's great speed at middle distance, which he produces in so many sons and daughters so consistently, should leave little to experiment in this mating.

Very truly yours,
George M. Demorest

per. Little Squire, ridden by tiny 9-year-old Kathleen Walsh, was his closest rival through the show and it was amusing to see these two children defeat their older and larger competitors in class after class. In fact the youngsters rather put their elders to shame for Eleanor Wynne on her Beer Baron was third in line to these two, winning one good class, being second in the Stake and placing on several other occasions.

It was in the High Jump that My Play Boy and Little Squire put on their best act. Competitors were allowed a school at 5' and Mrs. Eaton Guggenheim's The Scoundrel, ridden by John Fry, Gordon Wright on Beer Baron, Michael Walsh on Audwill Stables' Erin's Son and Russell Stewart on My Play Boy took advantage of it, but when Kathleen came in on Little Squire the crowd almost had heart failure believing that she might be going to ride him throughout the class. When the class was called, however, her father took her place and everyone breathed more freely. The Scoundrel went out at the first trial and then the bars were raised to 5'-6". This proved too much for Beer Baron and Erin's Son, but not for the two little fellows. 5'-9" is not very high, as High Jumps go, but it looks good and big when attempted by horses 13.2 and 15 hands and it was the smallest of these that made the grade. My Play Boy and his young rider made a gallant attempt but Little Squire was strong enough to carry his heavier rider over the top. Greater heights have recently been cleared in jump-offs for knockdown and out classes but they lacked the excitement of this special feature. The large crowd went wild and gave the little grey pony a generous round of applause.

Although some of the exhibitors felt that the fences on Huntington's outside course might be made a little larger next year, the course was a nice length, suggested hunting country, which is always attractive and returned very satisfactory performances. Some of the horses that showed to special advantage were Mrs. J. R. McKinney's Bally Black, the big bay that Jim Ryan brought from Ireland in 1938. A 9-year-old now, he's filled out over his quarters and loins to be a nice, big, powerful, well mannered horse. Dr. and Mrs. Kees' Barnaby Bright is improving at every show and, although he's only been jumping for a short time, went like a veteran in some of his classes. Mrs. A. Biddle Duke's Vassal Star and Fanette went well, the former especially so, winning both the working and conformation lightweight classes, and Miss Deborah Rood qualified both of her greys for the Championship. Silver Play's performance in the Ladies' class was outstanding. Although he stepped right along, wasting no time, he looked, from start to finish, pleasant to ride and easy to control. More masculine and suitable to the first flight rider Dublin Venture's win in the Corinthian was equally appropriate.

In the final analysis, however, the two chestnuts, Lord Britain and Demas were not to be denied. Lord Britain had won the model class, with Demas fourth. All through the show they had given honest performances and when it came to the walk-trot-canter of the Preliminary their gaits and manners were thoroughly satisfactory. In their separate ways they are both remarkable horses. Lord Britain, beautiful veteran of many show ring battles carries his age with extraordinary grace. The 5-year-old Demas, although he has been campaigned extensively this spring, still stays fat and fresh and improves at every outing.

The beauty of the Huntington ground is worthy of a word of comment. At the end of a long avenue is the well graded ring. Sunk a few feet below ground level at various points it offers an ideal spot for parking spaces and comfortable bank ground sitters. Over the tops of the trees to the north the red roofed club house can be seen and beyond that stretches the blue water of Long Island Sound. Any management wishing to place an order for weather can't do better than request a repetition of that sent to Huntington. Neither too hot nor too cold, too windy nor too still, too damp nor too dry; ideal was the word for it.

vided an excellent setting for the Waynesburg Show. The ring was in the middle of the track, where smaller bleachers were banked about the far side.

John W. Beach handled the interests of 3 young horses who took some 15 ribbons. Of these: Dr. R. C. Hutchinson's Grey Devil, 4-year-old, took the Model and then went on to win the Green and Novice, taking a 2nd in the Suitable to Miss Jane Flaccus' Senate Page and a 2nd in the Ladies' to Mrs. Beach's Tim Callahan. Senate Page is a 3-year-old by Devon, of nice disposition and good conformation who should prove quickly in the show-ring. Tim Callahan, a tall son of Johnny Callahan, he an Upset horse, whose easy way of going and priceless jumping performances gave him standout honors in these departments. A 4-year-old, he is young and fresh. Grey Devil is a rarely compact horse, consistent over his fences.

When it came to the Hunter Stake event on the final night, through a misunderstanding, the entries of Mrs. Sally C. Soles, of Mc Keesport, Pa., were absent. Her Coq Gaulois mare, Clifton's Jane had scored in several classes, accounting for 2 blues, and along with Pedro, would have given the Beach horses more competition for the Stake honors. In the final reckoning, Monte Sweep, 7-year-old son of Sweep On took the blue, as the youngster horses were weary and had jumping faults and the veteran Quotor, despite a bad round took 2nd. It was an all Johnny Beach finale as his Big Boy was 3rd and Walumbe, another Sweep On gelding was 4th.

The Waynesburg Committee was fortunate in getting Fred Pinch, of Mountchanin, Del., to judge, the more so, when at the last minute, with Samuel W. Taylor, of New York, unable to be on hand to judge the Gaited and Saddle Division, the versatile Mr. Pinch scored every class in the Show.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kidd, of Waynesburg, have 6-year-old daughter Martha and she a 3-year-old pony Sonny Boy, who is black-and-white spotted and stands 9:3 hands. This personable little pony was shown by his youthful rider about the big ring, going through his gaits in decisive fashion and getting rounds of applause for many talented tricks.

A most interesting exhibition was that of W. H. Bickel's Arabian Horses. In the afternoon he put on a two-team four-horse chariot race, while in the evening these spotless white horses, completely turned out with white tack, went through many devious circus ring antics, to music by the Waynesburg High school Band. Mr. Bickel, of Parkersburg, W. Va., an oil promoter there, has a hobby of all animals. On his big place there he has buffalo, deer, elk, and many other species of wildlife. His pure-bred Arabians who showed included two stallions, both ridden by women. Among the tricks executed was Show King's sitting down with Everett H. Finch up; Egyptian Prince, with his front feet on stand 2'-0" high, reaching to the ground to retrieve Mr. Bickel's hat and untying a handkerchief from his hind-leg. Another Arabian balanced himself on his back, on his rump and withers.

Ashland Horse Show
To James Verner's
Bar Baffling

Arnold Scruton, of Warrenton, went west to judge the Ashland Horse Show, held on July 3-4 in the new Fair Grounds, near Ashland, O. This was the first effort on the part of the Ashland Show to include Hunter and Jumper Divisions. The fine crowds which turned out for the two night sessions expressed great interest in these Classes, when James Verner, of Detroit, Mich., proved to have the outstanding Hunter and Jumper, a big home-bred-and-raised bay gelding in Bar Baffling.

SHOWING IS A GAME

There is probably no harder task than that of keeping your head when things go wrong, of maintaining a detached and impartial point of view when something belonging to you is at stake. It is so easy to forget that other people with other aims, other dreams and purposes divergent from your own are in the same game, whatever it may be, and all are obliged to abide by the same rules. In the great sport of showing horses there is so much at stake, all the love and affection an owner bears for a grand animal, all the desire to do well before a crowd, and often the financial necessity of horses that must prove themselves in order that a stable may be maintained, that it becomes very difficult to keep criticism down.

As the great nation-wide show circuit continues in full swing in every section of the country, there appears case after case of good sportsmanship. Class after class is lost by those who feel their horses deserved the ribbon, and many an owner takes the defeat with a smile, and goes home to sign his name and that of his horse on another entry blank to have another try at the sport of showing horses for the fun of the game. This is the rule, but there has been heard too often the owner who criticises the judges, claiming decisions are wrong, that judges fail to notice ticks, that some horses were lame who received ribbons, that some winners were defective in conformation or performance or unsound in limb. There are so many different things that can happen to horses in and out of the Show Ring that it sometimes seems impossible to see how judges can see them all. The remarkable thing, however, is how many times different judges in different shows will agree on the same horse and place him in the ribbons. Show judging is fairly consistent in spite of the thousand and one factors that are involved, and the thousand and one ideas on what makes a top horse.

The most consistent thing in the entire game, if it is to continue to prosper must be the overwhelming determination of those who love the Show Ring to keep it sporting, maintaining at all times the standards of real sportsmanship with which all of the great shows were founded. There is no room in any show for criticism of judges on their decisions while in the show ring. There is time for explanations after the show between the judges and the owners as to why certain decisions were made, and the judge can, if he wishes explain his reasons, but the owner who so far forgets himself to criticise the decision of the judge or judges during a show, is forgetting the one all important fact, that he has entered his horses in competition as a gentleman for the sport of the game, and the first mark of the sportsman is the capacity to take the decision of the judges without one word of talk.

When one stops to think, there is no reason for an owner to criticise a judge. He has entered his horses presumably because he wants to show in a sporting affair. The judge has been invited to judge because he is the most capable horseman that the committee have been able to find to select the best horse in their show. The owner knows the man who will select the winner and by sending in his entry blank, he tacitly agrees that the decision and all decisions of the judge are to be agreeable to him. What reason then is there for criticism when the judge renders his verdict?

From now until the close of Summer and on into the fall, it is fervently hoped that no single event will mar the happy prospect for another great successful show season. Through many long hot days eager owners will line the rails or ride their favorites as they strive in their own gallant way to do what they have been taught. It can only be the part of true sportsmen to take a leaf from the book of their own good horses, and take their licks as true gentlemen take them. As horses in races flash under the wire, the decision is final. The judge in the show ring is that same wire, that same finishing post, and owners should remember their sportsmanship no matter how difficult it sometimes becomes, because to do otherwise, is but to shout before the world, "I am in this game not for sportsmanship, not for the fun of the game, not to admire great horses, but for the personal gain that I can grab from it". This is not sportsmanship, this is business; and let us hope that there are times, if all too few, and places, if all too rare, where men and women can gather and forget business before a greater ideal of pleasure for the sport of the game, be it ever so hard and ever so exacting.

To the Editor

Dear Sir,

It has become apparent that England is going to be unable to supply a sufficient number of ships to bring over the children which she is sending to this country and which we have agreed to take in here.

I urge that you do everything in your power to arrange that American ships be sent over with proper escort to bring them safely to this country.

I realize that this is contrary to the ill-starred Neutrality Act, but to save these children's lives we should at this time make an amendment to this Act which will provide for the quick and safe arrival of these children.

Might not the use of these vessels fall under the same exemptions as the shipping of Red Cross supplies?

There can be little question that the rescuing of these little children from the horrors of war or death and the preservation of their lives for the future of the world is the noblest kind of service to humanity and service of as high an order as rendering aid to the wounded.

There is much talk today on the subject of the future of democracy and whether that form of government can survive. If we in this great country are to be governed by fear I do not see how it can survive.

The structure of all liberal government stands and grows on the actions of humanity, charity and justice which it has no fear of performing.

I strongly urge that we send ships across to bring these children to safety.

Sincerely yours,
 Josephine C. Spencer

Open Jumping Game

The Chronicle
 Middleburg, Va.
 Dear Sir—

The enforced leisure resulting from that old horseman's complaint, Broken Collarbone, incurred when my Facsimile turned over on me at a little local show, gives me opportunity to answer your kind letter with considerably more speed than is my custom.

As a general thing I think you have covered the open horses well; my kick was chiefly that in the stories referred to, they were not even mentioned. As a matter of fact, until open horses can jump over really exciting courses, with a time factor, (preferably under FEI rules) there isn't going to be an awful lot to write about. I think the open jumping side of the game is potentially the most sporting, and at present, the least, of any part of the show game. Outside of Virginia, which is real hunter country, and where every small show sports lots of hunter classes, it is possible, to own, and show, and win, with hunters, even if you haven't mortgaged the old homestead to buy a top one. Up here, save at spots like the late lamented Worlds Fair show, a second string hunter has little chance to win, but a reasonably consistent open horse can sneak in the ribbons enough to make it interesting.

In answer to your questions I am interested in reading the summaries; the more so since war news has resulted in the pruning down of sports, certainly the horse shows. The Times and the Tribune now only carry full coverage of the largest shows, and summaries are conspicuous by their absence.

It might be an idea to run all summaries on one page; those as wanted to read 'em could, the others could pass by. I usually read up reports on all the horse shows, here or in the south, although I read the ones closer to home with more attention. Since The Chronicle is the reporter of the show game, I hope it carries all the shows. I think that many of your readers go over the summaries.

While I am so busily engaged in telling you just how to run your business I shall ask, why is there a conspiracy of Silence regarding military classes? At West Point the big Military class was the three-phase competition, for which eleven teams vanned around forty horses. It was won, by the Sixty First Division Team (Capt. Huyler, Major Lambert and myself) by 1-2 fault from Fort Myer, yet it was all a beautiful, beautiful secret between the judges and us. Glenn Allan once told me that the reason he never printed military dope in his late and not too lamented TURF AND TANBARK was that the army files didn't seem interested in subscribing, but the circle works the other way too. There was nothing in the mag that they wanted to read.

I hope you don't mind this long diatribe; I really think that you are doing such a swell piece of work that I'm interested. Nothing else in the horse game gives the facts and the gossip and the shop talk and I hope you keep it up.

Sincerely Yours
 George Kaufman

Stallion With Hounds

July 9, 1940

The Editor
 The Chronicle
 Middleburg, Va.
 Dear Sir:

I support of your editorial in the June 21 issue—Stallions in Hunter Classes—I thought it would interest some of your readers to know that one of our active studs, Bimbo III, has been ridden regularly and hunted with Hounds. At all times he is well mannered, even when large numbers of mares are in the field. While we have shown him frequently in stallion classes (which are all too few), we have never entered him in hunter classes.

tion Preliminary, when she out-walked-and-cantered Vassar Jones' big middleweight Catnor, winner of the $250 Stake, who took the Reserve with 16 points. More competition would have been found in the Conformation Division, had not Mrs. H. A. Dunn's Dunwoodie Farm entries, of Fayetteville, N. Y., including the classy Leaf Hanger, been withdrawn at the conclusion of the first day. Miss Eleanor Pease's Speedy, down from Skaneateles, N. Y., also had to forego the final Classes when he struck himself.

The Jumper honors for this Show were won by Daniel H. Conway Jr., of Oswego, N. Y., with Burma, a chestnut mare of great spring and consistency. She did, however, stop in the $250 Jumper Stake, going to her knees to unload her owner who took the bridle with him. Robert A. Young, of Allentown, Pa., a newcomer to the Hunter-Jumper Shows, could not but have been pleased with Jim Marsh's finished rides on Kilarney Gray, who went clean at 4'-0" in the Stake and then in the 4'-6" jump-off was again flawless to win the $100 and the blue. This big grey half-bred has perfect manners—is Mr. Young's guest Hunter. John Vass, of Skaneateles, N. Y. rode his thoroughbred Whiskdale, 5-year-old son of Whiskdale-Echo Land, bought off the track, to a clear performance at 4'-0" in the Stake, but had points to place him 2nd in the jump-off.

Mr. Young won the Jumper Reserve with Kilarney Gray, of Forest Ward's Virginia Hobby Horse Farm-making. From the same stable came Irish Gray, to give Mr. Young's his second Reserve for the day, scoring in the Working Division.

The ring is in the midst of the 1-2 mile Ackerly Fair Grounds track, providing ample space for a varied and interesting out-side course layout. The stabling facilities are excellent with 135 boxes. Joint-Masters Mortimer B. Fuller, Jr., and Mrs. Major Lee White, of Abington Hills Hunt, and Mr. White, Secretary and Manager of the Show, had much to do with the two-days' success, securing outstanding arbiters in John M. Melville, Hyde Park, N. Y., and Augustus Riggs, of Cooksville, Md., Judges. Mr. and Mrs. White's daughter, Miss Betty White, as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, a Whipper-in with Abington Hounds, also contributed to Scranton's successful Show, even to the extent of riding Claire's Toy and Leaf Hanger to the first two ribbon awards in the Ladies'.

Vassar Jones, whose stables are near Carbondale, Pa., and thus can make entries in classes for local Lackawanna and Luzerne County Hunters, enjoyed Catnor's triumph in the E. B. Jermyn, Jr.-Warren T. Acker Memorial Challenge Cup, for Green and Qualified. This trophy is presented by James T. Sweeney, in honor of these two late Pennsylvania sportsmen. Miss Elizabeth Cusick was an owner riding on The Sea Devil to get the 2nd ribbon, behind Mr. Jones' 7-year-old son of Catalan, making his 1st season in the Shows.

Also from the Jones string was Baby Face, a docked-tailed bay mare who reared over backward in Saturday's Knockdown and Out and smashed up Jimmy Walsh, rider, brother of Mickey Walsh, of Little Squire fame. With Walsh resting in the Scranton Hospital Sunday, Baby Face, with Joe Fergerson up, fenced perfectly late on Sunday afternoon to win the Triple bar.

J. Newton Hunsberger Jr., of Glenside, Pa., has a mare of fine substance in Houris. She was 2nd to Cleone in the Wilmington Hunter Trial Class. At Scranton this daughter of Fitzrule—Caprice was consistently in the ribbons under her owner's rides. Interestingly enough, Caprice is by Mellifont, sire of the cracking mare Huntley Glen, now in the William Haggins Perry's Keswick Stables.

Another welcome note in the Scranton Show was the addition of Miss Flora Van Sciver, Chestnut Hill, Pa., to the ever growing ranks of Hunter exhibitors. Miss Van Sciver won a number of awards with her chestnut English, including a 2nd in the Working Hunter Stake to the champion Claire's Toy. She has just taken up the side-saddle and with less than a week's practice, turned in some fine performances.

sists of three colts and one filly, as follows:

Br. C. by Whichone out of Vanity, by Over There. This is a colt of exceptionally attractive breeding and individuality. His sire is considered by many experts to have been the best horse bred by the Whitneys in the last twenty years. While his stud career has not corresponded completely with that estimate, he has been none the less a success. Vanity, the dam, was a very high class stakes mare, winning over $50,000.00 in competition with the best horses of her time. Her dam was a stakes winner and her grand-dam, Hackler's Pride was twice winner of the Cambridgeshire in England, one of the most difficult races in the world to capture. All of Vanity's 2-year-olds to race have won with the exception of her present 2-year-old by Singing Wood.

B. C. by Pharamond II-Shell Hole, by Man o'War. The dam has already bred a winner out of two starters. This colt is exceptionally large and well-grown throughout.

He has good length, strong quarters and a very well developed wither. The scar on his left front leg should not harm him in the least for racing.

Ch. C. Only One-Royal Chain, by Royal Canopy. The dam has bred five winners out of six starters. The sixth one died early in training. This colt is symmetrical, solid, has good size and appears to have a good constitution.

B. F. by Belfonds-Sleek by Ariel. First foal. Dam won ten races. The grand-dam won eighteen races. While on the small side, this filly is smooth ago. Her share of the Hannah Dustin purse brought her $4,990.

The great Challedon made his 1940 debut last Tuesday at Suffolk Downs in a mile and 1-16 2-horse affair which served as a tightener for the Massachusetts Handicap tomorrow. The 4-year-old Marylander, greatest son of Challenger II and leading money-winner of last year, displayed the same indomitable form which gained him such triumphs as The Preakness, The Yankee, The Narragansett Special, The Hawthorne Gold Cup, The Havre de Grace Handicap, The Tranter Stakes, The Maryland Handicap and The Pimlico Special as a 3-year-old. Meeting every challenge from Leo Marks' Widner Cup winner, Many Stings, the W. L. Brann colt sped the Suffolk strip in 1.44 1-5, just one second behind the track record, this under 126 pounds as against his opponent's 118.

The first of Discovery's youngsters to enter the winners' circle was C. V. Whitney's filly Traffic Court, a granddaughter of Broomstick, who outgamed 11 other maiden females for 5 furlongs at Empire City on July 5. This daughter of America's leading handicap horse in 1935, now standing at Alfred Vanderbilt's Sagamore Farm in Maryland, was bred by her owner and had been out but twice before her Empire effort.

 b. c. Sea Star, by Sir Alillah, half-brother to Pasteurized.
 b. c. Sea Cradle, by Toro, half-sister to Mock Turtle, first foal is Sea Foam, by Chance Play.
 ch. c. Timely, by High Time, full brother to Early Delivery and Daily Delivery.

THESE COLTS ARE ALL A VERY EVEN LOT WITH GOOD BONE, FEET, CONFORMATION AND SUBSTANCE

MILKMAN, by Cudgel (Broomstick-Eugenia), Milkmaid (Peep o'Day-Nell) has proved a good sire of winners from very modest opportunities. In his 7 crops, every son and daughter he has sent to the races with one exception has won. Among his outstanding progeny are: Pasteurized, winner of the Belmont Stakes; Buttermilk, winner of 10 races, including the Netherland Plaza Handicap; Early Delivery, winner of 7 races, including the Hialeah Park Inaugural Handicap; and Early Morn, winner of 12 races out of 23 starts.

MILKMAN was kicked on the hock as a 2-year-old, resulting in a permanently enlarged hock, preventing his racing at 2. At 3, he was first or second in all his starts, winning 3 races from good company, placing second 4 times, including the Debut Stakes. At 4 he won 5 races over all kinds of tracks, and was third in the Spindrift Stakes.

MILKMAN's dam, Milkmaid was a stakes winner at 2, 3, and 4, lowering the track record at Saratoga for 7 furlongs and 1 1-16 miles. Among her stakes victories were: the Pimlico Oaks, the Ladies' Handicap, in which she defeated the Cleopatra; the Tomboy Handicap, and the Bouquet Handicap.

was 2nd and Question was 3rd. Miss Painter had two very useful sorts in Gold Braid and Gaiety at the show and won many ribbons including the Hunter Pairs abreast, and combined the above two with Miss Cherry Bakewell, Agent's Manarue, also of Sewickley, to take the 2nd ribbon in the Hunt Teams to the Oglebay winners.

The exhibition of Joseph B. Atkinson's (Jacksonville, Florida) pony, Silver Nip, proved a rare and exceptional one. The smart little 14 hand chestnut is the fourth pony Mr. Atkinson tried before he succeeded in finding a pony who could follow his verbal directions. He spent some 6 months each with the first three and has had Ot, his real name, for 1 1/2 years. He obtained the 3-year-old, bred by the Osceola Indian tribe in Florida, for $30. from a Mr. Walker, in Okeechobee, Florida.

The Chronicle witnessed Ot's performance in the ring, and sought Mr. Atkinson out in the stable later, congratulating him on his fine "routine". Mr. Atkinson, whose accent implies his Florida background, and who sports a screw diamond in his shirt, was quick to deny the "routine" idea. "I'll show you", he offered, "you see him eating grain there, don't you?" The pony took but two calls and he left his grain and came to the stall door. (It may be said here that Mr. Atkinson never gives him "play and pay money", i. e. food, sugar, etc.) A little light snaffle bridle was put on him.

In a quiet steady tone, Mr. Atkinson directed Ot to find a rub-rag hidden in his stall, tucked in the straw under his water-bucket. Without further ado and despite his tempting grain in the feed bucket, Ot retrieved the rub-rag. He was then brought out into the alley-way between the stalls. Again in the same quiet tone Ot was directed go around the corner of the stall, pinch the left front tire of a rubber-tired buggy and tell his owner if there was enough air in it. Ot did this without hesitation. After biting the tire, he put his head up and nodded approval.

Those who witnessed this exhibition in the stable were dumbfounded to say the least. Still The Chronicle had doubts and suggested that the pony had been schooled on this trick. (The pony is broken to drive and his trailer carries a rubber-tired buggy). When Mr. Atkinson felt he hadn't convinced his audience, he continued. By now there were some 4 or 5 people gathered. The pony was standing facing these people, as his owner directed him (he never touches him, except when instructing him to lie down). First he was told to touch a man's pin, which he did, stepping briskly forward and carrying out the orders and then backing up to his master again. Then he was told to go over and pull a girl's glasses off the bridge of her nose (she had them down on the end, as they were colored lenses and it was dark in the stable). This Ot accomplished instantly, taking some 4 steps to the girl. (He was touched across the bridge of his own nose by Mr. Atkinson, after he had started for the girl). He concluded this special performance by fetching a pair of spurs from a man in the audience who was carrying them in his hands. When returned to his stall, he executed a new pivoting trick, and then when told "That's all," he bolted for his grain.

In the ring the little chestnut pony balanced himself on a teeter-totter, walked on his knees, alternated in fetching white and red handkerchiefs out of his owner's pockets at the beck of the audience; kept step with his Master as he came in and out of the ring, and lay down pretending sickness, grunting as though in pain when asked how he felt.

Democracy?

July 8th

Gentlemen:

I don't think much of the last editorial on "Democracy" (June 28). God help us if Hitler's hordes ever defeat England. It won't be any consolation to know how we fought in the past. It's a good thing there are a few leaders with sufficient vision to see what a policy such as the one outlined would lead us into, as we are all on the same continent here.

Sincerely

Murray P. Fleming,

Time For Help

July 2, 1940

Editor, The Chronicle,
Middleburg, Va.

Dear Sir,

I wish to take exception to the thoughts expressed in your Editorial of June 28th, under the heading "Democracy rests with America", and more especially with the ideas contained in your last two paragraphs.

Your view point as I see it is briefly as follows: Europe is finished, so why should the United States send any further assistance of any kind whatsoever to the Allies. May I suggest, Sir, that this out-look is entirely false. England and the British Empire are not defeated and have not the least intention or expectation of being so. The Peoples of the British Empire are at present fighting for their own lives and for all those splendid things that result from living under the British flag. They are not doing this for themselves alone but are fighting the battles of all peace and freedom loving nations, among whose number is included your great Country. You suggest that they be left to their fate unaided. I hope and pray that this is not the opinion of the majority of your Countrymen.

Suppose for one moment that the British Empire is defeated. What would the future hold for the United States standing in the World alone? I hate to think. No friends, no customers and no security.

To those of you who have stood on the top of the County Stand at Aintree on a misty March afternoon and market. One trainer put it this way to a patron: "If your horse runs he might win, but with his dicky foreleg he might break down in this going and you could not back him with any confidence. There will be more racing someday, and there will be rain someday too. My advice is not to run him". We all know that old horses, and those with shelly feet, do not fully extend themselves when the ground is baked, and that under such conditions others move rather like an old woman with corns walking on cobblestones. Nevertheless, there is a tendency these days to "coddle" racehorses much more than ever in the past when tracks were often very rough and when trainers argued that as many horses broke down in soft going as do so when the ground is as hard as iron. At the recent Thirsk meeting three 2-year-olds (Pekin, Sir Victor Sassoon's Dean of Guild, and Mr. A. Barclay's Starboard) were all withdrawn because of the hard ground from a five furlong maiden race for which they had been declared and jockeys engaged. Two of them had come all the way from Newmarket but the risk of jarred tendons was not taken, the principle being that he who does not fight at all stands more chance of fighting another day.

Mr. R. Renton, the Ripon trainer, the other day ran a gelding within a few weeks of being unsexed, but fully recovered from the operation that "added him to the list". Capt Chas. Elsey remarked that it used to be thought that six months should elapse after castration before a horse ran, but many others do not now wait this length of time and, of course, everything depends on the recovery of individual animals. I have never been able to find any confirmation of Dr. Hawkesworth's story of Tregonwell Frampton (known as 'The Father of the Turf') having his stallion Dragon unsexed immediately before a match he had rather deceitfully made in which he engaged to produce a gelding to run. Hawkesworth puts these words into Dragon's mouth:

"The operation was performed; I was instantly mounted and spurred to the goal, and, injured as I was, the love of glory was superior to the desire of revenge. I determined to die as I had lived, without an equal; and having won the race, I sunk down at the post in agony, which soon after put an end to my life".

One is reminded of a colt named Aberlute which Mrs. Langtry ("Mr. Jersey") was her assumed name on the Turf), owned. He was difficult to deal with as a stallion, and on one occasion when he ran at Kempton his looked far out over the green of the race-course; to those of you who have walked over the moors of Scotland with the heather in bloom and the purple hills in the distance and to those of you who have galloped over the lush green fields of the English Midlands or have killed your salmon in the swift waters or still pools of Eastern Canada, the survival of all these things and countless others are in your hands. The British Empire needs your assistance now. Help before it is too late.

I am, Sir,

Your Sincerely,

Cooling the Valley Arena

The big indoor arena up at Valley Hunt is used extensively by Members throughout the winter months. There it is that the youngsters come by their Jim Leyburn equitation lessons. During the 6th Annual Show this year, boxes were improvised in the arena as stabling facilities. These stalls proved excellent, but then the sun shone on the tin roof for hours and it got stifling hot. Air-conditioning was too expensive, out of the question. The ingenious "Ingey" Leyburn devised a pipe system, hooked onto the swimming pool pump, and regular garden-hose sprinkler fittings were screwed into a pipe, every 15'-0" run along the peak of the roof. As the roof got hot, the operator increased the flow of water, which shot high in the air and falling on the roof, kept it cool. The Movie advertisements of: "10 Degrees Cooler Inside" would go for the Valley Hunt Indoor Arena in the summer time.

Scranton Horse Show

Major Lee White, who pulled an oar on the Columbia crew in 1905, whose father was a Major in the U. S. Army and therefore his name was Maj. Major Lee White, is the hale and hearty hospitable spirit of the Scranton Horse Show. He is the Secretary-Manager and has the full speed ahead assistance of the Abington Hills Hunt joint-Masters Mortimer B. Fuller, Jr., and Mrs. White. The 5th Annual Show, held under the auspices of this Hunt, had a successful start when Judges: John M. Melville and Augustus Riggs were signed. A Show is only so good as its Judges and these men are tops.

Rocket and Teckor

Jack Grabosky, who has arm-waved his Rocket to many Jumping tri-colors was at Scranton. His big chestnut Rocket was not up to his usual clean performances, possibly a little stale from his strenuous campaigning. Jack has a new jumper, one he obtained from James Michaels, the man who sold him Rocket. The new horse is to be named Teckor, Rocket spelled backwards.

Knock Down My Rain Pipe

Apropos of the story of Spoochie Woogie and the "Tin-canning", Mortimer Fuller Jr., told of how he used to school some of his Hunters and Jumpers some years ago, when he and his wife, the former Bobby Acker, were doing the circuits. A 10'-0" length of rain pipe was painted white and automobile chains were laid along the inside of the pipe, so that they'd rattle and make noise if the horse rolled it off the top rail. A horse would knock this pipe off but once, so frightened he'd be of the clatter.—Easy Money, who won many a jumping crown in his time with Mrs. Fuller up was pictured taking a triple-bar on the cover page of this year's Scranton Horse Show catalogue.

Abington Master

Mortimer Fuller, Jr., who sometimes hunts Abington Hounds himself, is well mounted, frequently hunting his wife's celebrated conformation Hunter Super Gold, a Superman gelding obtained some years ago from Waugh Glascow, Upperville. He also has Surtax, well known open horse and has just obtained a useful big half-bred type from Arthur McCashin, in Ajax, a Genesee Valley-bred. There on his "Over Look Farm" he has 2 Roi Greys, a yearling filly and 2-year-old colt both out of the Sir John Johnston mare Jacqueline. The same matron has also produced a suitable to become hunter in a 3-year-old by Blackwood.

Abington Hounds.

With Kennels near Clarks Summit, joint-Masters Mortimer B. Fuller, Jr., and Mrs. Major Lee White and Hounds go 3 days a week, weather permitting, from August 16 through Feb. 15. The young entry is being worked now. A good litter of puppies recently arrived from Mr. Newbold Ely's Vanquish.

Sewickley Hounds.

Huntsman Ken Smith, son of Huntsman Charles Smith of Mr. Stewarts Hounds, whose duties are with Sewickley Hunt, was riding in this Hunt's entry in the Hunt Team at the Valley Horse Show. While his team was receiving 3rd ribbon he told The Chronicle of his Hounds, and that they hoped to enter 22 1-2 couple this season and had 22 fine puppies. Many of the Sewickley Hounds are Walkers, coming from L. B. Shouse in Kentucky, while the Hunt was extremely fortunate in obtaining Essex Hector, son of Essex True Boy, he veritably the foundation sire of the good Essex pack. Sewickley also obtained some Hector bitches from Essex which it is intended to use Sewickley stallion Hounds Lepanto and Big Boy on.

Digging In.

Word comes that erst-while Gentlemen Riders: Charles "Pistol" White and Rigan McKinney are digging into the Maryland country-side, having bought Farms near Cooksville, Md.

Diesel Age Too Rapid.

Jane Clapper, of Pittsburgh, had a good looking Hunter in Diesel Age, by Candy Rock—Lady Abbott, who proved too rapid in the show-ring. Back to the races it is for him, and he ran at Wheeling Downs on the 4th of July, and she missed his effort as she was winning laurels on Beach horses at Waynesburg. P. S. Diesel Age wasn't rapid enough on the 4th.

Gershwin Hunting

Helen B. Shaw, a keen Hunter enthusiast of the Pittsburgh country, once saw a beautifully made horse running at Wheeling. She couldn't keep her eyes off him and told Johnny Beach about him. Together they searched him out and now Gershwin, a son of *Sir Gallahad III is her perfect moving snaffle hunter, a 7-year-old. As a yearling he sold for $19,500 bought by Mrs. Isabel Sloane it is related, and was later claimed in the $2,500 bracket.

Vospex at Waynesburg

Mrs. George Underwood, of Uniontown, Pa., has started her daughter Lida Lanahan off nicely in the Hunter Show game, with a lovely mannered gelding in Vospex. They were all at Waynesburg.

Riding and Trails.

Wayne Dinsmore, of the Horse and Mule Assn., recently stated in these columns, that where there were trails there'd be riding. Up in the Valley Hunt country, through the Allegheny National Forest, narrow gauge railway lines were once run, put in there during the World War to bring out lumber for a chemical plant. These rails and ties have long since been removed and the Forest rangers now keep up these right-ways as paths. Drag hunting was attempted in this area, along these cleared ways, but the overwhelming predominance of deer forbade it. Hounds would hit it off on deer lines and would be gone for days. Game Wardens are instructed to shoot all dogs running deer up in Pennsylvania.

Sewickley to Bradford.

When the Snowdon Richards-es, the William Robinson Sr.s, and son William Robinson Jr., Evelyn Thompson, Blaine T. Fairless, and Alice B. Painter, all of the Sewickley area, decided to go up and show at Bradford's Valley Hunt fixture, along went spectator supporters, of whom the fair haired Molly Hayes was one. She is still recovering from the horseman's complaint, a broken collarbone, sustained in the last class at the recent Junior Show near Pittsburgh, and had her right arm all bandaged down. Coley Ward, George O'Neil and Dick Dole, the recent Harvard grad, of Millwood, Va., were at her beck.

"Show"—Level Best!

Crispin Oglebay has presumably the top 2-year-old filly out this year in Level Best, the Equipoise daughter out of the Man o'War matron Speed Boat. Mr. Oglebay's gardener back in Chagrin Valley, Ohio, wanted to back the filly. To all questions and instructions he has a set expression "show—show." This made it a little difficult when Mr. Oglebay's Secretary Mr. Sloan asked how he wanted to bet: "win, place or show?" The usual reply came: "show—show." The bet was placed across the board for the gardener and he cleaned up. Level Best brought $7,700 at the Saratoga Yearling Sales, from H. B. Scott's consignment.

Oglebay, Man o'War Man

Crispin Oglebay has four 2-year-olds in training and they are all out of Man o'War mares. Level Best won the Demoiselle Stakes on the 4th of July, others are Bull Terrier, by Bull Dog, Ocean Blue, by Blue Larkspur and Sky Fire by Big Blaze.—If his racing interests succeed as his Man o'War—Holystone show efforts have, he may soon be a leading racing winner.

100th Erie Anniversary.

Bradley Hurd, Co-Chairman of the Erie County Agricultural Society Exhibition, which celebrates its 100th Anniversary, on August 20-23, was at Valley Hunt, seeking entries for the Hamburg N. Y. affair.

Mensen's Owner Considers

The William Rochesters, of Long Island, who have a grand Point-to-Point Hunter in Mensen are contemplating the Virginia scenery, with a possibility of coming down for good. They were among many friends at Bradford for the Valley Hunt Show.

Sing for your Breeding.

Richard Dorn, the outstanding rider of the Valley Hunt Horse Show, winner of veritably all the Children events with his Como mare, (formerly Noisy Miss, acquired from Ben Randolph, Clarke County, Va.) thinks it is "sissy to sing." He has a splendid voice. Once last Xmas time, his parents, the Forest D. Dorns and brothers urged him to sing. He refused. Finally in desperation his father told him that he could have his mare bred (something he had begged his father to do for several months) if he would sing. Dicky gave them one Spanish number and then rushed to the telephone and called the family's "Glen-Dorn Stable" Manager, and shouted: "Get Currency (she's a 3-4 bred 16 hand hunter) ready, she's leaving for Greene Valley and we're going to breed her to Thunderation.

Two Frosty Morns.

Robert Glover, of Geneseo, N. Y., shipped his Frosty Morn over to the Valley Hunt Horse Show. When this honest Jumper was unloaded at 3 A. M. Saturday morning, after an all night ride, there was frost on the ground in the Valley near Bradford, Pa.—and this was the 6th of July.

Wails for Erie Show.

Wherever The Chronicle travelled the past week-end through Pennsylvania, wails were heard about the cancellation of the Erie Show. It was an all-girl cast out there and Harriet Behrend, (who was by the way spectator at Valley Hunt) was President and Mrs. Thomas Lord, Secretary. Exhibitors proclaimed it a "natural", one of the best run Shows of the summer. The girls wearied of the energies they had to put into the benefit. It may be renewed in 1941.

Suggestions for Horse Show

F. Wayne Fesenmyer, Chairman, Raymond J. Brennan, Treas., Mrs. Arthur C. Simmons and Mrs. Charles E. Fralich, Field Secretaries, have the complete Valley Hunt Membership backing for their unusual and perfectly executed Horse Show. They have an excellent Executive Committee, including Clarendon E. Streeter, Dr. Fred G. Crittenden, George B. Morris, Jay W. Bird, Forest D. Dorn (he was away in Mexico), W. Frank Miller, and John A. Fitzgibbon. Such is the complete cooperation of Club Members that James I. ("Ingey") Leyburn, Secretary-Manager had time for details. He had a squad of boys following around the Coca-Cola sellers, retrieving every bottle before it was broken. He had ropes strung up, which were raised and lowered by attendants on the outside course to keep spectators clear when horses performed. He had men tamping back divots after each class on the outside course, just to be sure every horse had the best possible conditions.

Comforts of Home

The "Telmobile" provided at the Huntington Show by the Huntington Telephone Company, was a much appreciated convenience. Anyone could send out calls from its private booths at any time without taking more than a step or two from the ringside, and, what's more, through the cooperation of Otis Trowbridge's broadcasting facilities patrons could be paged for incoming calls. Participants and spectators alike were secure in the knowledge that they could be reached in cases of emergency.

Dangerous Occupations

Gathered at Empire City on July 4 were 30,427 people, about a third more than the track could comfortably hold. Those of less than average height could scarcely see the horses but, since New York's chief preoccupation lately is the "take", that didn't matter nearly so much as the fact that many couldn't find room to place their bets. Even the "stooopers" were out of luck. They could be seen inching through the crowd trying to spot discarded mutual tickets of the right sort but had they bent to pick them up, they would quite likely have been trampled to death.

Opinions of Opinions.

Scarcely recovered from Ox Ridge, the Sloan Doaks and the Dick Carvers were back at work at Huntington. Husbands were judging Hunters in the ring and on the outside course and wives were judging husbands judging from the sidelines. All were still on friendly terms at the end of the final session. Remarkable!

13.2 But All Horse

Since pint-size Capt. Dan Corry, of the Irish Free State Army team sold Little Squire, he has presented somewhat of a problem. No open-to-all jumper of his ability can be at his best without an experienced rider, but a grown man's weight can't avoid being a handicap to a 13.2 hand pony. Little 9-year-old Kathleen Walsh (weight almost nothing at all) rides this little handful of horse remarkably well. Rates him at his fences and stays put at heights which would be 5'-6" to the average sized horse.

Happy Revival.

The revival of the Huntington Show was a happy thought, and credit should be given to Fred S. Ferguson, Mrs. Frederick D. MacKey, Harold Nehbras, and Bert Ingram for an unusually congenial two days of sport. Mrs. Walter D. Lynch, Miss Jeanne Nehbras, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Henry, and Mrs. Ferguson had charge of the unusually efficient sub-committees, and Philip Brady, James Maloney and the Spratt Brothers, Tom and Jack, had charge of the grounds. No one who knew the show in the old days could possibly have said "It was better then."

The Well-Dressed Horse

The two handsome chestnuts, Mrs. Duke's Fanette and Martin Vogel, Jr.'s Demas looked very smart at Huntington. While waiting their turn to be considered for conformation they wore spotless white coolers which completely covered them, and when these were removed their coats, un-irritated by flies, shone like burnished gold for the judges' inspection.

The Well-Dressed Man.

Many there were who admired Fred Ferguson's costume at Huntington, as he accompanied Vera Zorina into the ring for the drawing of the pool. Scarlet hat, wine tie, brick trousers and a coat like Jacob's, checked with many colors, were accented by Miss Zorina's outfit, which was dazzling white from snood to shoe.

Celebrities.

One advantage of Sunday shows is that famous people are at liberty to present prizes. Lovely Vera Zorina must have worked harder at Huntington than on any week-day, for when she was not in the ring she was surrounded by a mob of children and she cheerfully posed for her picture before dozens of Brownie cameras and signed autographs in countless books. Victor Moore took a more serious view of the occasion as is the duty of an ex-vice-president. Inspecting and aiming rifles, (air), he was an inspiration for National defense.

"Souveneers, Ash Trays!"

Arthur "Novelty", the cheerful little man who offers his wares around the shows, picked up an assistant at Huntington. In one day young Thayer Ferguson, son of the chairman, sold $26 worth of ash trays with boxes on them.

Culpeper's "Fourth".

That flag and banner day, the Fourth of July, combined with high class entries, attracted many to the 37th Annual Culpeper horse show. The W. Haggins Perrys of "Beau Val", had their good mares To Victory and Village Miss showing and winning, with Betty Perry and To Victory proving a hard combination to beat in the well filled Corinthian class. The Perrys had hard luck with their new mare Huntley Glen up at the Ox Ridge show; after showing in one class, she banged herself, and was unable to compete for the duration of the show. The George Greenhalghs, of Springbury Farm, Berryville, who run their show stables in competition—Mr. Greenhalgh with Agent Boy, Ginnico and others—versus Mrs. Greenhalgh's good ones who include Billy Do and Palm Springs; were on hand at Culpeper to see their latest acquisition, Highland Ace, a beautifully mannered 4-year-old, put up some nice performances. The Edward Stettinius-es were there, to see their young sons ride, with Wallace placing third in the A. S. P. C. A. Good Hands event. The Percy Drurys, of Foxhollow Farm, had their two good ponies Punch and Ting-a-ling going well; as well as their nice 3-year-old Union Jack.

Culpeper Rail Birds

The Melville "Judge" Church-es, and little "Punk" were over from Rixeyville farm, North Cliff; picnicking at Culpeper and showing their War Whoop colt, War Marshall. Mrs. Cary Jackson brought her Prosaic, Shoulder and Croyden Park up from her Keswick farm, "Marletoz." Mrs. Marguerite Bach was down from Upperville; U. S. Randle was another owner-rider—and brought Randle's Find, Shadow, Nite, Cateer, (until recently—Kawoise Kateer) Way, and Princess; as well as his Brigge and Gee Ray Bee to show. Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin Jr., and daughter Barbara were hanging on the ole top rail; as was Jim Hamilton, also down from Warrenton, watching Mrs. Jim Hamilton ride her lovely Golondrina to the Reserve Championship. Little "Pickens" and Barrie Hamilton were there too; "Pickens" winning with her black mare Huntress, and vigorous little Gray Knight; and Barrie up on his pony Jock. Mrs. T. Kenneth Ellis of Hot Springs came to watch her Clinker, Sun Wonder and Arrestor perform; the Hubert Phipps-es, of Virginia Breeder fame, were on hand, as were North Fletcher, to show his Eber So, and the E. Gardner Primes, with daughter Eve placing second in the A. S. P. C. A. event, and Spring Miss winning the well filled Working Hunter class.

8 Mounts, 1 Spill

It took a fit miss to do it, but Ellie Wood Keith, of Charlottesville, did not even seem winded after riding 8 horses in the Corinthian at Culpeper. Mrs. Whitney's Spring Hope gave her a nasty fall at the 3rd fence of the outside course; and Dr. Allen's Clifton's Lad copped the blue!

Middlesex Tomorrow

Although a post entry affair, a number of the leading stables in the State are expected to compete tomorrow, July 13, in the third annual Middlesex Horse Show to be held on the estate of the Thomas T. Hawksworths at Stove Point, near Deltaville, Va. The first class is set for 11 A. M. Among the stables that will be represented are those of Alex Calvert, Warrenton; Alexander Rives, Cobham; George Benoit, Fredericksburg; Mrs. George Watts Hill, Virginia Beach; Robert W. Daniel and Clyde S. Lumpkin, Brandon; Miss Peggy Sampson and Edwin Vaughan of Richmond; Mrs. K. M. Bruce of Ellerson; Miss Elizabeth Shaw of Richmond and many others.

Miss Markman—Not Miss Wiman

The Chronicle erred in stating that Mary Jane Wiman "guided the destiny" of Stanley S. Luke's Ilderton, winner of the Middle and Heavyweight Working Hunters, at Lake Forest (issue June 28), for in truth it was Jane Markman who rode Ilderton throughout the 4-day show. According to Mr. Luke, Miss Markman also rode Roger Hyatt's Reconstruction and Betty McGuire's Barjen in the Ladies' class, wherein Reconstruction was 1st, Ilderton 2nd and Barjen 4th.

Illuminator's Future Indefinite

With all these rumors afoot concerning the Alvin Untermyer's good show hunter and Garden Champion Illuminator being put into training as a "chaser" this summer, The Chronicle became inquisitive last week and wired the Untermyers for verification. Back came the prompt reply: "Future plans for Illuminator absolutely indefinite." So that, we feel with some conviction, is that.

Glory Road Goes West

Mrs. D. N. Lee was a combination of cheer and gloom at Culpeper last Friday: cheer because of the way her good 3-year-old Spanish Spear was going, and gloom because of having to part with Glory Road. Having staunchly said no to all previous comers, the Middleburg horse-woman had planned for Glory Road, when his time came, to share a pension with Broken Glass and other notable veterans of her stable, then along came Mrs. A. C. Thompson from Indianapolis and persuaded Mrs. Lee to sell her model hunter and former steeplechaser. Now, while Glory Road goes on to conquests further afield, Mrs. Lee has a new one to console herself with, a 2-year-old by Grand Time, which she bought at Delaware Park recently because "he looks so much like Spanish Spear."

Waynesburg Show

There is great civic interest in the Waynesburg Horse Show, held under the auspices of the Greene County (Pa.) Saddle Club, in the Waynesburg Fair Grounds. The High School Band, all uniformed in colorful scarlet lend the musical backdrop. Dr. W. A. Titus, President, John E. Cliff-ford and J. Wood Williamson, Secretaries, Ralph Summersgill, Vice-President, W. Robert Thompson, Chairman, J. Wood Ganlear, Treasurer, and J. M. Fuller, Vice-Chairman, (he who rode his Hunter and Jumper entries) are all local Greene County businessmen. They give their untiring efforts to this Show, in hopes of promoting Greene County, which hills abound with blue grass, as a horse-raising center.

Beach's Hunters and Show

John W. Beach, who headquarters in Allison Park, Pa., and has a barn full of excellent Working and Conformation Hunters, sustains the interest in Hounds, horses, showing and hunting in his sector. He is putting on his annual Allison Park Show the 2nd week in August, when many of the Pittsburgh country-wide side will take part. Johnny's string predominated in gathering blues in the recent Waynesburg Show, when he had Jane Clapper, Barbara Maine and Helen B. Shaw riding his entries. How they did justice to them may be best seen in consulting the Waynesburg summaries. Johnny's Dark Light, who took 2nd in the Model, once won over hurdles at Rolling Rock, beating Royal Thomas, in one of his few de-feats.

Warrenton Plans

Sharing the problems of entertainment for the 41st Annual Warrenton Horse Show, Aug. 1 & Sept. 2 this year, will be Jane Wilbur, recently appointed Assistant Chairman to Mrs. Robert C. Winmill, who was again made Chairman of the Entertainment Committee. The first of Warrenton's Shows to be held over the week-end, stretching from Saturday to Monday, was tried last year and proved so successful that the schedule is being repeated, with plans for making the Labor Day week-end a merry one for visiting exhibitors and guests already well under way. The show's Executive Committee consists of J. North Fletcher, President, Mrs. James Hamilton, Secretary, Harold E. Smith, Treasurer, Sterling Larrabee and Morris Clark. Mr. Smith and H. E. Ullman have been appointed with the new Manager Francis T. Greene as a committee to select the judges.

Georgia Foxes Rabid

An epidemic of rabies among the foxes in Burke County, Georgia, is reported from Waynesboro, the county seat. According to the Aiken Standard and Review: "This is said to be an unprecedented condition in the wildlife of this country. The federal and state authorities are investigating the situation, and the Rockefeller Foundation agencies have likewise become interested, and are cooperating with the state and federal authorities.—From good authority it is learned that many citizens of Burke County, Ga., have been bitten by foxes, which are usually very timid. These people have become infected and are being treated. It is stated that some of these people have died. It is also stated that a number of dogs have been infected. Scores of dead foxes are being found in the woods around Waynesboro, and the situation is considered serious." Heads of foxes now being trapped at the request of the state Board of Health are being sent to the Rockefeller Foundation Laboratory for the Study of Rabies in Alabama. The Aiken paper describes a case where a negro farmer was bitten while walking on a road near Waynesboro. "The fox dashed out of some bushes and its teeth became entangled in his left trouser leg. Moore kicked, sending the fox through the air ten or twelve feet, but it leaped back at him, sinking its teeth in his right leg above the ankle. Grasping its neck in both hands he choked and shook it until he had loosened its jaws from his leg and then beat its head on the road surface until the Reynard was dead. Its head has been sent to the state board of health laboratory in Atlanta.—All heads thus far sent from Burke County have shown positive reaction."

Stings At Wheeling

A son and daughter of the Stromboli Farm's New Jersey sire, Sting, ran one-two at Wheeling Downs last Friday, July 6, when L. Craiglow's 8-year-old gelding Pun took the measure of Roland Fairbanks' 3-year-old filly So Fong, in a mile 1-16 claiming affair. Both have scored previously at the same West Virginia track, but this was the first time they'd ever started together.

Delaware Records

During the 3 weeks, from June 12 to July 3, the top chasers of the country, many of which had seen action this spring at Pimlico, at Belmont, and at the Hunt Meetings, have been contesting over the duPont-designed brush courses at Delaware Park. Fourteen well filled and truly run races made up this year's Delaware Steeplechase card. Both the 2 and 2 1-2 mile records over the state course were broken by Bachelor Philip and Straw Boss, the respective winners of the Georgetown and Indian River Steeplechase Handicaps. The 2 mile record for the standard course of 3:48 4-5, held by Ridaway was not bettered this year but was equalled by J. T. Skinner's Mad Policy, when the son of Rathbeale-Policy scored over the Morris H. Dixon-trained Tarbrush by a length and a half in a driving finish. J. T. Skinner also saddled the Rokey Stable's splendid Mandingham, winner of the Delaware Park Spring Maiden Stake.

Mr. Ryan Most Successful

Most successful steeplechase trainer at the Delaware meeting which ended on July 4, was James E. Ryan, who saddled 4 wins, 1 second, and 1 third in 7 starts. Mrs. James C. Clark's stout-hearted Little Cottage-Pallas Maid went postward in 4 races during the 3 weeks. The capable, consistent son of Cottage-Pallas Maid won his first 2 starts and, under increasingly heavy weight, placed 2nd and 3rd to be in the money in all 4 contests. Mrs. Esther duPont Weir's Deanslaw, a 5-year-old son of Foxlaw-Jennie Deans, scored 2 very impressive wins over F. Ambrose Clark's Red Gauntlet and Montpelier's Farragut. The Ryan charges won well-deserved victories under Jockey Magee's excellent handling. The only other steeplechase owner to score a double at Delaware was Thomas Hitchcock, whose Oneechee and Eran De Perse both won over the small course. Colored Jockey A. Scott rode the Hitchcock winners to place 2nd on the list of winning jumping riders, ahead of F. Bellhouse who rode Bachelor Philip to victory in the Georgetown, and was up on second place winners in 3 other contests.

Dixie Way From Bluemont

A popular newcomer to the Pennsylvania show circuit is E. M. Chaney's black mare Dixie Way, who performed nicely and was well in the ribbons at The Waynesburg Horse Show, July 3-4. This mare hails from the Piedmont Hunt Country, having been purchased by Mr. Chaney early this spring from Joe Lacey of Bluemont. This is her first season in showing and local horsemen predict that after she has had sufficient show experience, she will be among the top hunters of that section.

Work On Leny Manor

Christopher R. P. Rodgers, Vice-President of The Leny Manor Horse and Pony Show, tells of the work progressing on the new ring which will undoubtedly enhance their one-day exhibition on July 27. Now being completely rebuilt, the railing forming the ring enclosure will be decorated by cedars planted at each fence post, while an entirely new judge's stand is also being planned. Chris also reports that entries have already started coming in and many more have been definitely promised.

Craigie Crusades

Walter Craigie, Richmond Times-Dispatch columnist, has missed attending just one Culpeper Horse Show in the past 16 years. On hand again this year, Walter was ready at a moment's notice to defend his recent stand in "Hoof Prints" on the failure of numerous shows this year to follow strictly the Rule Book of the American Horse Shows Association in awarding Hunter Championships. There was little need, however, for words of praise were heard from those who had read the article, though it had been resented by at least one show official, who labeled him a "rule-book showman." Walter's reply is that he sees no reason for having rules interpreted differently by each individual show, thus giving exhibitors cause for complaint.

Or Else Destroyed

William F. Cochran, Jr.'s Or Else, after a season of successful campaigning in three of this spring's major timber races, broke a front leg just below the knee, while turned out in the paddock of trainer F. A. "Downey" Bonsal's farm in the Worthington Valley, and had to be destroyed. This capable black 8-year-old son of Sun Flag—Long-lashes, who placed 2nd to Mrs. Frank M. Gould's Black Sweep in the Middleburg and Virginia Gold Cups, and finished 5th in the great Maryland race when Blockade retired the coveted Challenge Cup in its twenty-eighth renewal, will be missed by many lovers of timber racing at the Hunt Meetings this coming Fall. Or Else carried the blue and white silks of William F. Cochran, Jr., to win the Virginia Gold Cup of 1939 under Mr. Sidney Watters, Jr., and in 1937, as a 5-year-old with Mr. P. D. Reid in the saddle, completed the upstanding Maryland Hunt Cup course in his initial attempt, to win 6th place honors for Benjamin Leslie Behr, that beloved sportsman who first brought the big Sun Flag gelding to the Hunt Meetings.

Fauquier-Loudoun Benefit

The Fauquier-Loudoun Poloists were victorious hosts at a Red Cross benefit game at Phipps Field on the shores of Goose Creek last Sunday, defeating Fort Myer's 3rd Cavalry Team by a score of 10-7 and taking in well over $200 in gate receipts. In what many proclaimed the best game yet witnessed this season, the Fauquier-Loudounites avenged their last week's 8-6 defeat after giving the Army team a 2 goal handicap to start the willow rolling. Number 1 man Hubert Phipps made four goals in the first chukker, which advantage was followed up by team mates Henry Skinner, Back; R. J. Kirkpatrick, at No. 3; and Bobby Clark, at No. 2, all helping to roll up the final score. Capt. Lawrence Dewey, No. 3 man for the Army, made all 4 goals for his team. A silver goblet engraved with the red cross emblem was presented by Mrs. Paul Mellon to each player on the winning team. Following the game the visiting players and many others gathered at the Hubert Phipps' Rockridge farm for cocktails and supper. Here Fauquier-Loudoun's No. 2 man Bobby Clark amazed many friends by his virtuosity on the piano.

Up Country Show

At a committee meeting of the Up Country Hunter and Pony Show held in Paoli, Pa., July 2, at the home of Up Country's capable Chairman, David B. Sharp, it was decided that the eighteenth renewal of the popular one-day Hunter Show, which annually takes place at Hawthorne Farms in the Radnor hunting country, shall be held this fall on Wednesday, September 18. Twenty-seven classes will compose this year's Working Hunter and Breeders' Show. A marked change on the program of events will be an intricate Handy Hunter class which will replace the customary Touch and Out event. Large entries are expected for this Fall's show. Last year 79 exhibitors showed their Hunters at Up Country. The eighteenth renewal of the competition at Hawthorne Farms will be a fitting school for the Bryn Mawr Horse Show, which is slated to get under way the following Wednesday.

CASUALTY LIST

Sesamoid Bone

During a work at Timonium, the week before the United Hunts meeting on Long Island brought Spring Hunt Racing to a close, Mrs. Jane Fowler Bassett's Herroro chipped the little sesamoid bone on the inside of his off front ankle. The 12-year-old son of George Smith-Electrify who scored his most recent victory in the Maj. Henry Reed Hatfield Plate, over hurdles, at the recent Rose Tree two-day Spring Race Meet, had to be taken out of training and is standing in a plaster cast. According to his trainer, Sidney Watters, Jr., if this injury heals satisfactorily, Herroro, who has consistently campaigned for seven years at the Hunt Meetings, only running unplaced four times in his innumerable starts, will again see action over hurdles and on the flat.

Same Collar Bone

On Friday, May 10 in the 2 mile Claiming Steeplechase at Pimlico, won by Mrs. V. L. Black's John Bosley-trained, Kosan, in which 4 of the 6 chasers failed to complete the course, G. H. Bostwick's Masked Knight 2nd, fell heavily with Mr. John S. Harrison, breaking this gentleman jock's collar-bone. Johnny hung up his boots and breeches for 7 weeks and then returned to the races on Friday, June 28, at Delaware Park to ride Mrs. Frank M. Gould's Game Runner in the $1,000 Maiden chase in which a field of 11 contested. Game Runner, always in a contending position, was moving strongly to the leaders with the eventual winner, William L. Van Allen's Campfire Embers, when he misjudged his distance and came down in a crashing fall over the next to last fence. Mr. Harrison had the extremely bad luck to break this same left collar-bone again. Mrs. Gould's entry suffered a broken neck and died on the course where he fell.

Dental Sufferer

Lewis Murdock, well known Gentleman Rider, recently from Delaware Steeplechasing, was a miserable but none the less enthusiastic spectator at Fauquier-Loudoun's Red Cross Benefit polo game last Sunday, having suffered a wisdom tooth extraction that necessitated 4 stitches and swelled his jaw to excruciating proportions. He is soon to be with James E. Ryan, well known Hunt Meeting and big track 'chaser Trainer, riding and galloping.

Baby Face Flattens

Vassar Jones' Baby Face, from Carbondale, Pa., stables, reared over backward at the Scranton Show and flattened Jimmy Walsh. Hospital authorities had found no complications at a late hour on Sunday.

Miss Blanche Clark, who rode her good-looking show hunter LORD BRITAIN to the closely contested Reserve Championship at Connecticut's recent Ox Ridge Horse Show, returned the son of BUNTING—LADY BRITAIN to his second New York Championship of the season when this owner-up combine was awarded the tricolor at The Huntington Crescent Show, Huntington, L. I., last Sunday, July 7. LORD BRITAIN was also Champion of The Rockwood Hall Horse Show, Tarrytown, N. Y., in May.

Bill Streett, Horseman, Sportsman, Gentleman Rider and Trainer

Sportsmen the entire country over were shocked with the sudden passing of William B. Streett, one of America's most colorful Gentlemen Riders and Trainers of the past two decades. Bill, as he was known to all, died suddenly of strangulation while dining with friends in New York. Maryland born, he spent many years of his life in the Elkridge-Harford Hunt country. He came by his love of horses, steeplechasing and foxhunting from a natural heritage. He is pictured above on OSTEND, his great contribution to timber racing, when this combination returned the winner of the Virginia Gold Cup in 1937, for Mrs. Frank M. Gould's first triumph. This gallant little son of SAND MOLE, of Bill's selection and making, was saddled the following year by Bill to gain the 2nd Gold Cup leg, which was won outright for the 3rd time this year when Mr. John Harrison rode the Streett-trained BLACK SWEEP to win. OSTEND was the top timber horse out for several seasons. The names of Mrs. Frank M. Gould, Mr. John S. Harrison and Mr. William B. Streett were linked in many another Hunt-Meeting and Steeplechasing success. An outstanding win was chalked up to the Streett training on three occasions in the coveted National Cup. First he was up on his MELITA to win in 1934, while Mr. P. D. Reid rode Mr. Gould's WHAT HAVE YOU to win in 1936 and Mr. Harrison was up to win on AD LIB in 1938 for Warner Baltazzi. At the time of his death this successful and colorful figure in American racing had over 40 horses in training at Belmont Park. As an Honorary Whipper-in for many years with Warrenton Hunt, Bill was known as one of the most joyous men to Hounds in the land, for "merrily he'd whoop and he'd holler" and "gone away you'd hear his shout, far, far away." He had songs he had written of Harford County and Warrenton hunting days and he would be singing them as he came home with Hounds. A great boon to sport, wherever he was, Bill will be sorely missed from the stable-yards to the ball rooms.
